CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS

OF

The Society of Medical Jurisprudence

ARTICLE I.

Name.

The Society shall be known as THE SOCIETY OF MEDICAL JURISPRUDENCE.

ARTICLE II.

Object.

The object of the Society shall be the investigation, study and advancement of the science of medical jurisprudence and State medicine, and the attainment of a higher standard of medical expert testimony.

ARTICLE III.

Membership.

§ 1. There shall be two classes of members—active and honorary.

§ 2. Lawyers, physicians and chemists of good standing in their respective professions shall be eligible to active membership.

§ 3. Any member of these professions of recognized eminence therein shall be eligible to honorary membership, but the number of honorary members shall at no time exceed twenty.

§ 4. A candidate for active membership shall first be proposed to the Trustees, at his own request, signed by him and endorsed by two active members in good standing, of the same profession. Such request shall be handed to the Secretary of the Board of Trustees, and it shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees to pass upon the merits of such candidate. The name of a candidate proposed for membership shall be printed on a special slip, sent to members only, and enclosed with the notice of the meeting of the Society preceding the next meeting of the Board of Trustees, at which such application shall be acted upon, and if recommended by the Board, such name shall be printed on notice of the next meeting of the Society as recommended for election. At such meeting such candidate shall be voted for by individual ballots. Five adverse ballots at such meeting shall reject any candidate. When two or more candidates are to be balloted for, such candidates may be voted on one ticket, but by individual ballots of the members present desiring to vote.

§ 5. Candidates for honorary membership shall, on recommendation of the Trustees, be elected by a two-thirds affirmative vote of the members present and voting at the regular stated meeting of the Society next succeeding the meeting at which such recommendation is made.

ARTICLE IV.

Officers.

§ 1. The Officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, and a Board of Trustees.

§ 2. The President, and in his absence the Vice-President, shall preside at the meetings of the Society. In the event of a vacancy in the office of President, the Vice-President shall become the President for the unexpired term.

§ 3. The Secretary shall keep the minutes of the Society and the roll of members, send out all notices and perform all other duties usually performed by Secretaries of scientific societies. He shall give each member at least three days' notice of every meeting of the Society.

§ 4. The Corresponding Secretary shall conduct the correspondence of the Society, and perform such duties as appertain to his office.

§ 5. The Treasurer shall receive and collect the initiation fees and assessments of members, and deposit in the name of the Society all moneys received by him in a bank designated by the Trustees, unless otherwise ordered by them, and pay all bills and other indebtedness of the Society, after audit and approval by the Trustees. He shall make a report in writing of his receipts and payments, at each regular meeting of the Trustees, and an annual report in writing to the Society, at the regular meeting in January, and oftener whenever called upon by the Society or the Trustees.

§ 6. No member shall hold more than one elective office at one and the same time, except the officers of the Society, who shall be ex-officio members of the Board of Trustees.

ARTICLE V.

Trustees.

§ 1. There shall be thirteen members in the Board of Trustees, four chosen from the medical, or chemical, and four from the legal profession, and the remaining five the officers of the Society ex-officio. They shall meet between the fifth and twelfth days preceding each regular meeting of the Society. They shall direct and supervise the business of the Society, subject to its orders and instructions. They shall have charge of and preserve the property of the Society, and perform such other duties as are imposed upon Trustees of incorporated bodies by law. They shall annually choose a President and Secretary of their body. The Secretary shall enter in a proper book a record of the proceedings of the Board and give all the required notices.

The President shall call a special meeting of the Board at the written request of three members thereof, and shall at each regular meeting of the Society make to it reports upon all subjects ordered to be reported by the Board, and the time and place of the next meeting of the Board. They shall make an annual report in writing to the Society at the regular meeting in January, covering in full detail all the business done by the Board not specially reported, the amounts of money or property received, the expenses of the Society, and the balance of property or money on hand, and where deposited.

§ 2. Five members of the Board of Trustees shall constitute a quorum thereof.

§ 3. Any Trustee who shall fail to attend two successive regular meetings of the Board of Trustees, without an excuse satisfactory to the Board, shall be deemed to have vacated his office, and shall be so reported at the next regular meeting of the Society.

ARTICLE VI.

Attendance.

It shall be the duty of every officer and trustee of the Society to attend all meetings.

ARTICLE VII.

Fiscal Year.

The fiscal year of the Society shall begin with the regular stated meeting in January of each year.

ARTICLE VIII.

Meetings.

§ 1. Regular stated meetings of the Society shall be held on the second Monday of each month, except July, August and September. Special meetings shall be called by the President, at the written request of at least five members, stating the object, which also must be stated in the call for such meeting, and no other business shall be transacted at such special meeting except that provided for in the request.

§ 2. Ten active members shall constitute a quorum at the meeting of the Society.

ARTICLE IX.

Duties and Rights of Members.

§ 1. Every active member-elect shall pay his initiation fee within two months after having received notice of his election; his election otherwise shall be deemed void.

§ 2. Every active member hereafter elected shall pay an initiation fee of five dollars, and an annual assessment of two dollars, beginning with the fiscal year next succeeding his election.

§ 3. The assessment for each year shall be payable at the regular meeting in January in each year, and failure to pay the same within three months thereafter shall forfeit membership.

§ 4. Extraordinary assessments may be levied by a two-thirds affirmative vote of the members of the Society voting thereon, upon recommendation of the Board of Trustees, at least one month's notice thereof having been given to the members. A failure to pay the same within two months thereafter shall also forfeit membership.

§ 5. Only active members who are not in arrears for initiation fees or assessments shall be entitled to vote or be eligible to any office.

§ 6. Any member may resign at any time, provided his financial obligations to the Society have been fulfilled.

§ 7. No resolution or motion requiring the expenditure of money belonging to the Society shall have any force or effect unless the same be approved by the Board of Trustees, at a subsequent meeting of the Board, or passed by a majority of all members of the Society; nor shall the Board of Trustees have the power to expend any of the moneys of the Society excepting such as are necessary to provide for the meetings of the Society, except by the sanction and approval of the Society.

ARTICLE X.

Ethics and Discipline.

§ 1. Charges against members shall be made in writing and submitted to the Board of Trustees, which, should it consider them of sufficient importance or gravity, shall furnish to the member charged a copy thereof. The accused shall thereupon, within ten days after having been served with such copy, submit his answer in writing to the said Board, which shall, within not less than five, nor more than fifteen days thereafter, proceed to hear accuser and accused, together with their witnesses or other evidence, and within eight days after the evidence has been closed render judgment in writing on said charge, recommending either a reprimand, suspension from membership for a period not exceeding one year, or expulsion of the accused, or dismissing the charges.

§ 2. Such recommendation shall be laid before the Society at the next regular meeting, and shall go into effect unless reversed or modified by it.

ARTICLE XI.

Elections.

§ 1. The election of officers shall take place at the regular meeting in December of each year, and shall be determined by a majority of the votes cast for the respective offices, and shall be by individual ballots. The term of office shall be one year, and shall commence with the regular meeting in January.

§ 2. Vacancies among the officers, by whatever cause produced, shall be filled for the unexpired term by the Board of Trustees.

§ 3. All nominations for offices to be filled at the annual election shall be made at the regular stated meeting next preceding such election, and the names of the nominees, together with notice of such election, shall be mailed to every member of the Society at least five days before such election.

ARTICLE XII.

Committees.

Standing or Special Committees may be appointed by the Society, and shall make a written report at the annual meeting, and sooner, if called upon to do so.

ARTICLE XIII.

Order of Business.

§ 1. At the regular stated meetings of the Society the following shall be the order of business:

1. Calling the meeting to order.
2. Reading of Minutes.
3. Reports of Committees and Trustees.
4. Unfinished and New Business.
5. Election of New Members.
6. Reading Paper of the Evening, and Discussion.
7. Adjournment.

Except that at the December meeting the election of officers shall immediately precede the election of new members, and except that at the stated meeting in January no paper shall be read, but the reports of the officers and the addresses of the retiring and incoming Presidents shall take place.

§ 2. This Society shall be governed by the parliamentary rules as laid down by Smith and Cushing.

ARTICLE XIV.

Amendments.

§ 1. Amendments to the By-Laws may be proposed in writing, at any regular meeting previous to the December meeting of the Society; but no amendments shall be acted upon except at the December meeting, and unless notice thereof shall be given to every member of the Society.

A two-thirds affirmative vote of the members present and voting shall be necessary for the adoption of an amendment.

§ 2. The Order of Business may be suspended or changed by a three-fourths affirmative vote at such meeting.
